NEW TIME SAVING PLAN

Judge De Bolt Will Not Henceforth Call Calendar.

"I have decided to adopt a new system with regard to the setting of cases for trial," Judge De Bolt said to an Advertiser reporter yesterday.

"This is to abandon the calling of the calendar. The old system of calling the calendar on given days has taken a great deal of time. Not only that, but the process in one court has interfered seriously with business in other courts. So many attorneys have to attend the calling of the calendar before one judge that business is delayed before other judges.

"Now, instead of calling the calendar, I propose to take up cases in the order in which they appear upon the printed calendar for the term. Attorneys interested in cases near the top will be expected to appear in time and, if they are not ready, present motions for continuance to stated dates or inform the court of any intermediary pleadings they intend making.

"As far as possible, three or four days' notice will be given to attorneys of the probable time at which cases they are retained in will be reached. Cases where the parties are not ready will, unless otherwise arranged, go in their order to the foot of the calendar.

"Sometimes, under the old way, attorneys at the calling of the calendar would fight for delay, evidently in some instances not wanting the cases tried at all that term. As the calendar is always printed some days in advance of the opening of the term there will be no occasion for any complaint of surprise in taking up cases in their order without ceremony.

"I believe the new plan will save a great deal of time and expedite the business of the court. At least I intend to give it a trial."

FORMER POLICEMAN AB ON IS DIVORCED

Irene Ah On was granted a divorce, with costs but not alimony, against Ah On, the former Chinese policeman, by Judge Lindsay yesterday. E. A. Douthitt appeared for the woman and S. F. Chillingworth for the man.

Gross cruelty and non-support were the grounds made out. Mrs. Ah On told a pitiful story of abuse at her husband's hands. Her life had been threatened at different times with a revolver and a hatchet. She had been assaulted with such weapons of peace as an opium pipe, a currycomb and a corkscrew.

Ah On made a poor mouth to ward off an order of alimony, saying it had cost him $750 to defend himself from prosecution for perjury. The money came from a deposit of $2000 Mex. in China, of a party with but $800 American gold. Ah On said he smoked opium when he could afford it, but under his reduced circumstances he was now content to eat the drug. This mode of consumption made ten cents' worth of opium last a month.

Respondent denied that he supported another woman but accused his wife of living at times with Antone Manuel, the messenger of the Federal court. This caused the calling of Mrs. Ah On and Manuel, both of whom testified that there was no truth in the accusation.

PORTO RICANS APPEAR IN UNLAWFUL ROLES

Porto Ricans are rapidly filling up the gap in cases of violations of United States social laws, which has existed since the general cleaning up of the "Ten Dollar Club" series wherein the Japanese held the center of the stage.

Yesterday the committal the previous day of a Porto Rican woman for bigamy was reported and the same morning Commissioner Maling, upon due examination, committed another to the grand jury for the same offense. This was Adela Lezados alias Adela Sing. The information filed by District Attorney Breckons was to the effect that on March 8, 1903, Adela married Sam Sing, Chinese, and that while he was still living, on March 14, 1905, she married George W. Reese.

Ball in these cases is $1000 for each, which practically means that the accused will rest in jail until their trials. Another committal in a similar class of offense made yesterday was that of Joe Revara for unlawful intercourse with Providencia Andino, wife of Gregorio Andino.

Weak Men, Here's Strength.

Sick and weak, I can cure you with Electricity, as I have cured thousands of others. I can make the blood circulate in your veins, the nerves tingle with vigorous life and the spirit of energy show itself in every move of your body. I have told you that electricity is "Life," and now all scientists and doctors are approving my claim. Let me prove it to you; let me show you how my method of applying this great power has revolutionized medical treatment.

Dr. McLaughlin—Dear Sir: I will say that since wearing your Belt I have been able to sleep better, I have not had a cramp or pain in the leg affected with varicose veins, my appetite is wonderfully improved, and my nervousness is all gone. Altogether I am greatly encouraged, but the fact that I will really get a cure after my many disappointments is almost too good to be true. The great change in my condition during the short time that I have worn the Belt gives me every hope of your prediction for a rapid cure being verified.

Yours most respectfully,
H. G. FOSTER,
Royal Annex, Merchant St.

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt

Restores the snap, the vim and vigor of youth. Any man who wears it can be a giant in mental and physical development. Men, are you weak, have you pains in the back, weak stomach, constipation, lumbago, rheumatism, enlarged prostate gland, or any of the results of excesses or overwork? My method of applying Electricity while you sleep at night will cure you. It fills the nerves with the fire of life.

I've made giants of lots of men who thought they had passed the best years of their lives. I've taken such men and made regular storage batteries of them, and you can almost see the electric life shooting out of them. If you are going backward, come to me. I'll help you up.

I have a book which every man should read (one for women, also). It tells facts that are of interest to every man who wants to remain young in vitality at any age. Send for this book today, if you can't call. I mail it sealed, free. If you call I will give you a free test. Remember, my Belt does not burn, though you can feel the current and can regulate it. I warrant it to give a strong current for years, though no man who uses it right needs it over three months. Cut this out and act today.

ADDITIONAL JURORS SUMMONED FOR TERM

Judge De Bolt ordered a venire for the following additional jurors for this term, returnable on Monday at 10 o'clock: James E. Jaeger, Geo. H. Childs, Jos. Lewis, Ed. P. O'Brien, John Crowder, Paul Lemke, Wm. McGowan, Jr., M. G. Carroll and Ed. Drew.

Judge Robinson ordered a venire for fourteen additional jurors in his court, returnable at 10 o'clock Monday. The following names were drawn: Edwin Mitchell, W. P. O'Brien, James Haughton, John G. Alberts, Archibald A. Dunn, James Lemon, J. Ordenstein, Charles Crozier, E. O. White, John Malina, Edmund Swan, W. R. Waters, Wm. Kaulbaum and Arch. S. Robertson.

Both courts have been running on scant panels. A criminal case was tried by Judge Robinson with eleven jurors to save the time a special venire would take.

THE PERILS OF STAGECOACHING

The perils of the old stagecoaching days in the mountainous West are recalled by the recent adventure of Supt. Vaile of the United States mail service in the District of Oregon. Mr. Vaile is a brother of Mrs. A. B. Wallace of this city, and in a recent letter to her he thus recounts his experience on an inspection tour by stage between Roseburg and Myrtle Point.

"The road was in comparatively good condition, and, barring a few minor mishaps, such as a wheelhorse turning turtle on a hill, we had made good time. At about 11:15 P. M. I was awakened from a momentary doze by the dropping of my side of the stage. Before I could collect myself sufficiently to get alarmed, the side dropped still further and I was ejected out into space. For thirty-five feet I sailed through the air and landed below on a log that rested on the embankment, twenty-five feet below the road.

"The place where I landed did not strike me as a good resting spot, and so, as it was very steep, I kept on and 'bumped the bumps' some hundred feet further to the rock on the edge of the beautiful Middlefork. It was a soul thrilling tumble, as may be imagined. One of the wheelhorses tried the same trip and landed beside me with a crushed skull.

"I looked and saw the heavy stage hanging above me on the log I had missed on my first plunge. I got out from under as quickly as I could, and then began to wonder what had become of my stage companions, the driver and three passengers. I could see one of them climbing up the bluff ahead of me, and it was one of the worst moments of my life when it flashed across my brain that we two only had escaped alive and the others had been caught by the log and crushed to death. I called out for Mr. Whitney, chief clerk of our service, who was making the trip with me, and was reassured when he answered my call from the river bank whence I had just crawled.

"The fourth passenger had landed alongside him. It took us some fifteen minutes to get up to the road; and a comparison of our injuries developed that the driver, who was on the upper side and did not go down the bank, had a rib broken. Mr. Whitney had a scalp wound and many bruises, while I had a bruised leg and many sore spots. The blessed log held the coach and one of the wheelhorses and prevented them coming down on top of us. Two wheelhorses killed summed up the fatalities."—Springfield Republican.

Why Buy McClure's?

McClure's Magazine is bought and read in homes not because it is a magazine, but because it is the magazine. Why?

FIRST—THE PRICE. It costs but one dollar a year, or less than ten cents a number, for over thirteen hundred two-column pages of reading matter. This amounts in actual bulk to twenty or twenty-five books costing anywhere from a dollar to two dollars a volume.

SECOND—QUALITY. The reading matter is written by America's leading writers—the best short story writers, the best writers on timely articles, the best writers of important serials, such as Schurz's Reminiscences or Baker's Railroad articles.

THIRD—TIMELINESS. The reading matter in McClure's is not only good; it is not only entertaining, amusing, instructive and inspiring—it is also about the subjects in which you and all Americans are most interested at the time. No subjects in the next twelve months are going to be so important as the question of railroad rates and rebates and the question of life insurance. Both of these questions will be discussed by authorities in an impartial, careful, interesting way.

FOURTH—ITS CHARACTER. McClure's Magazine is not edited for children, but at the same time, there is never a line in it that any young girl might not read. Its advertising pages are as clean as its editorial pages.
